

It's official! Mark Whaley has again put his name forward as a candidate for Councillor, Ward 5, Waterloo.

While submitting his nomination papers Mark commented, “citizens will benefit by having our most experienced and dedicated elected officials leading us through this period of unprecedented growth in Waterloo. The changes that have already taking place have been challenging and the rate of change is only expected to accelerate. We need our most skilled and competent team to handle the complexity of the task ahead.”

Over the last 4 years Mark has been pleased that taxes have not exceeded inflation and that 100’s of million dollars have been wisely spent on upgrading infrastructure in Ward 5 and across the city. “We have put in place an award winning plan to keep our current infrastructure in the best possible condition while still planning for a new seniors centre and library during the next council term. Both projects must be environmentally sustainable while at the same time being economically viable, a fine balance. There is lots of work to do ahead. I know my dedication and experience will continue to pay dividends to our citizens.”
